History Of The City To Be Prepared

Establishment Of Historical Museum Also Arranged For By Society

Plans were made for the collection of data upon which an intimate history of Sierra Madre may be written at the semi annual meeting of the Historical Society at the Community House in City Park on Tuesday evening.

Cooperation of the early settlers, old and former residents will be asked by William Lauren Rhoades, the society's custodian, in the gathering together of letters, documents, and general information, also of material and objects with which a museum may be built up.

Through the cooperation of Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of the grammar school, a room in the school building has been set aside for the receipt and storage of matter turned over to the society for this purpose.

Dr. Robert Ernest Cowan, vice-president of the California Historical Society, widely known historian and biblographer of California, was introduced at Tuesday's meeting as guest speaker by Harold Carew, founder and past president of the group, and spoke on the subject "The Romance and Reality of California History."

Dr. Cowan recalled that many trivial things have wrought great consequence in the past. He told the story of John Adams, who was allowed by his father to give up his Latin one day and dig ditches instead. Young Adams went back to his Latin next day.

"So," Dr. Cowan commented, "if John Adams had proved a competent, contented ditch digger, he probably wouldn't have become the second President of the United States."

The name of California, he stated, was the accidental result of Cabrillo's having read the name in an ancient and worthless romance just before setting sail on his own exploration. When Cabrillo saw the land that is now California, he is supposed to have been impressed by the similarity between his discovery and the

To Feature Fathers In PTA Program

Extra Effort To Interest Them In School Work At Session Wedneday Eve

By Mrs. W. O. Preston

Father's night will be celebrated at a regular meeting of the P.T.A. on Wednesday evening, October 19, at 8 o'clock in the Sierra Madre school auditorium. An interesting program has been arranged by the chairman, Mrs. E. R. Thompson.

Harley Lyon of Altadena, chairman of Father's Council of California Congress of Parents and Teachers, will give a short talk. He has been quoted as saying:

"A Father's Council organized as part of the local association adds to the value of the association to the fathers, increases membership in the P.T.A., and eventually helps to improve the school for the benefit of the children."

W. R. Humphries will talk briefly on the Red Cross program and Sierra Madre's needs. A short informal talk by Miss Steinberger, the school principal and some interesting music by Dave and Jack Buchan, will complete the program.

Remember this time PA TAGS ALONG!

Mrs. E. R. Thompson, program chairman, is planning a short musical program in connection with the "Merry Marionettes," to be shown on November 4th. Toto's Marionettes have been enthusiastically received in very high class hotels in California, so it is hoped that all Sierra Madreans will avail themselves of this opportunity to see the show right at home at very low prices.

Mrs. Myrtle Hill, director of the chorus, was well pleased with the enthusiastic group which turned out for the first meeting —when it was decided that the chorus would meet every Friday at 10 a.m. in the music room of the school.

There will be motion pictures in the school auditorium this afternoon (Friday) at 3:15. "How Babe Ruth Makes a Home Run," should prove very interesting to boys at this time. "How Felix Hyps the Hippo," and an Our Gang comedy, "Official Officers," will be the other features.

Everyone To Play Everybody Else In This Tennis Robin

The Sierra Madre tennis round robin starts today. Everyone, regardless of how well or poorly he plays, is invited to enter. There will be three divisions— men, boys and women, with men's and boy's doubles. Everybody in each division plays everybody else in that division, and it will be arranged so that the high point man will meet the high point boy at some time.

Unlike a tournament, the round robin will allow the dub to play as many matches as the top notcher plays. There will be no "eliminations," and the resultant ratings will be determined by the margins of victory. Each match will be of two sets duration.

Although entries may be filed up until October 23rd, a week from Sunday, it will be appreciated by the local tennis officials if all who possibly can, register today or this weekend. Louis Fuller, Emile Smith, Bob Chavis and Bill Pyle are in charge of the affair. Entrance fees are 50 cents for men, and 25 cents for boys and women.

Council Receives Demand For Cut In Expenses Of The City

The petition of H. J. Kohl and his political associates demanding that $10,000 be cut off the city's operating expenses for the current year was presented to the City Council last night. Mr. Kohl again denounced the Council, Col. H. B. Hersey and others vigorously asserted their confidence in its members and commended their efforts to carry on the city's business in the interest of its citizens. Mr. Kohl declared the Council had been "whitewashed" and launched a new attack upon the Central avenue paving project. Without a protest from the audience or dissent in the Council a motion to file Mr. Kohl's petition was adopted. In response to post cards sent out by Mr. Kohl and his associates urging their attendance, many were present. Applause given the various speakers indicated a quite even division of sentiment in the audience. The proceedings were too late to be reported in detail in this issue of THE NEWS.

Art League On Its Way As Board Of Governors Elect Officers And Plans Work For Its Student Members

By Henry Irvins Hawxhurst

DEFINITE steps toward actual organization of the Municipal Art League were taken at a meeting in the City Hall on Monday night when a Board of Governors was chosen, plans outlined for financing the undertaking and officers were elected.

It won't be long now.

The Board of Governors consists of Col. H. B. Hersey, Dean Bode, Mrs. J. H. Robertson, Harold D. Carew, Norval MacGregor, Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, Henry G. Coulter, Vernon J. Morse, Mrs. Beatrice Ward Kelterborn, William J. Lawless, Mrs. Emil Sturmthal, Frank Spencer and Rudolph Hartman.

This board promptly proceeded to elect Mrs. Sturmthal as secretary, Dean Bode as treasurer and the writer— yes, yours truly— chairman.

The cornerstone having thus been laid there was a discussion of ways and means for starting the League upon its work, organizing its classes—and financing it.

Col. Hersey waxed eloquent on the idea of such an organization here and the benefits that would accrue to the city, and the chest of every loyal citizen would have swelled with pride if all could have heard the Colonel's word picture of our fair city and the advantages it offers those seeking the artistic and the finer things of life. It is the most ideal place on the coast for artists and art lovers, the Colonel said, in addition to having the most ideal climate on the face of the earth. And having been from the Arctic to the Antarctic, the Colonel knows something about climate.

A lot of mighty good suggestions were made concerning ways and means of raising funds with which to get the League into operation. Among them was one that a series of entertainments be sponsored by the organization. Henry G. Coulter, our well known playwright, and Mrs. Sturmthal were appointed a committee to inquire into suggestions along this line. They will report to a meeting of the Board of Governors to be held next week.

At the same meeting Vernon Morse, one of our outstanding painters, will submit a detailed report on some valuable suggestions made by him for organizing the League's classes.

An idea that struck everyone as a good one proposes the holding of an "art meeting," to which the patron members and every citizen interested in art, the League project and the advancement of the city shall be invited. In next week's NEWS I hope to be able to tell you that a date has been fixed for such a gathering, for the matter will be decided upon at the next meeting of the Governors. I also expect to have a lot of other information for those interested.

In the meantime I hope the ambitious student members will not get restless. It won't be long now.

Junior Women Will Serve As Models At Fashion Show Here

An elaborate fashion show, under the auspices of the Guild of St. Catherine, will be held on Tuesday, October 25, at 2 p.m. at the home of Miss Thomasella H. Graham, North Lima street. Members of the Junior League of the Woman's Club as models will display 75 garments. The show is open to the public and everyone is cordially invited.

Unemployed Solve Their Own Problem

Store Up Winter Food Supply, Operate Farm And Open Service Bureau

Sierra Madre's unemployed problem is now wholly under the supervision of the Cooperative Relief Association, composed of the jobless themselves, and the organization's service bureau will be in full operation next week, according to Jedney Davis, secretary.

Fitted to handle all applications for jobs and opportunities for work throughout the city, the bureau is located at the association's headquarters and warehouse at 35 East Montecito avenue. All the unemployed are invited to register, and it is stated that there will be no fees or commissions of any kind.

In the association's warehouse is a supply of cabbages, canned fruits, tomatoes, oranges, apples, peaches and similar staples which will be used for alleviation of want during the winter months. Two tons of cabbages secured have been manufactured into over a hundred gallons of sauerkraut.

One of the Association's problems is to provide work with actual cash renumeration to those who must meet rent, gas and water obligations. The food situation is pretty well solved with the expectation that in the near future here will be a total of five acres of land under cultivation at the unemployed's farm at Lima street and Ramona avenue. A large quantity of seed has already been donated and it is planned to rotate men on the job of planting and cultivating.

Every Thursday night the Association will hold public meetings in the Park House of the city park, and all interested are invited to attend.

Name Officials To Direct Big Bazaar At St. Rita's Church

Committees and officials to conduct the forthcoming St. Rita's Bazaar were appointed on Tuesday night at a parishoners' meeting at St. Rita's Church. Tonight the advisory board will meet to discuss details of the event.

Those chosen to manage the affair are Rev. Father Hyacinth Clarey, director; Mrs. W. Bradley, chairman; Mrs. A. Delvecci, vice-chairman; Mrs. W. F. Jones, treasurer, and Frank Bryan, secretary. The advisory board includes Mrs. M. A. Otte, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Craig, Mrs. G. Gerhard, P. Ronan and W. J. Schiltz.

Red Cross Is Assured Of United Aid

Delegates From Many Local Organizations Renew Pledges Of Cooperation

Delegates from 22 of the 38 local civic organizations attended the annual meeting of the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross in the City Hall on Friday night.

In the yearly report read by Chairman W. R. Humphries it was stated that a total of $250 was remitted to National headquarters for disaster relief work, that the local chapter had in turn received from the National organization a carload of flour, contributed by the Federal government, $54 to be used for fruit canning, and approximately 818 yards of cotton material which is to be made up into warm clothing for distribution during the coming months and which was also contributed by the government.

The report shows that 315 men and 67 women registered for work in the past year, and at present time 190 men and 62 women are on the files registered for employment. Since October, 1931, 428 men and 126 women received part time jobs, and eight men and seventeen women obtained permanent jobs. The applicants physically unable to perform hard labor constituted the relief subjects.

In the same length of time, Mr. Humphries said, the City of Sierra Madre has expended a total of $18,959.15 on its unemployment program. Transients were responsible for $207.60, this figure representing the amount paid for Red Cross grocery orders which were given in exchange for work on the Bailey Canyon project. The Red Cross itself expended $1806.14, which was paid for work performed benefiting those who subscribed to the relief fund.

Groceries and vegetables were furnished to 21 families of war veterans. A total of 197 orders of thirty-five sacks of flour were given 16 families and seven families received clothing. Loans have been made in 20 cases to the extent of $300.82, while milk and school lunches to the children of 13 veterans and milk delivered to veterans' homes cost $230.12. Transient ex-service men to the number of 221 received clothing and food.

Thirty-four men who placed street numbers in front of 1127 houses and lettered names of streets at intersections got block-aid money amounting to $326.24, the Red Cross furnishing brushes and material.

At weed-cleaning time only 39 taxpayers availed themselves of the opportunity to have their lots cleaned by the unemployed, thus giving 19 men work at $217.89.

A monthly average of 50 children have been receiving lunches and milk at the Public and Parochial schools. The total amount, including $728.97 in groceries delivered to the homes of undernourished children, is $1,723.04, and it is estimated that a like sum will be necessary for the coming year.

Since April 25th, when the government flour project started, 656 sacks of Red Cross flour have been received and have been given to 87 families. During the canning season a total of 401 quarts of fruit and food have been canned and stored.

The garden project has furnished vegetables to approximately twenty-five families a week, in exchange for garden work where possible and $34.51 of the total $198.71 used on the garden project was used for seeds and the like. Over 3000 tomato and cabbage plants were given to school children for home gardens, together with a balance collection of seed.

Open Democratic Campaign Here In City's First Rally

George Rinehart, prominent Democrat and former Covina publisher, talked before a meeting of 25 Democrats Tuesday afternoon at a house warming in the party's Kersting Court headquarters.

Rinehart said that the tarrif on oranges is higher than the California citrus grower's actual selling price, and that the overproduction of oranges rather than the tariff is responsible for the pinch felt by the industry. He pointed out that, on the other hand, there is a scarcity of lemons, and that although a foreign grower might ship in his fruit at a profit regardless of the tariff, he will not do so.

Mrs. Eileen Cardiff, Democratic nominee for the assembly, making her second Sierra Madre appearance, gave a short speech in which she said that is she elected she will back every constructive measure which will lower taxes by cutting down public expenses.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. O. Caukin, Mrs. W. J. Lawless and Mrs. Cora B. Corum acted as hostess. Tea was served by Miss Cricket Caukin.

The first recital will be held Sunday, November 6, at the Church of the Ascension. Mrs. Lyle M. Anderson will be hostess for the tea following the program.

A fashion show to be given on Tuesday, October 25, was among the many plans discussed for the coming year.

Mrs. John H. Robertson was re-elected president of the guild. Miss Jean Woodward will be secretary for the coming year, taking the place of Mrs. Helen Hill, and Mrs. Gordon McMillan was re-elected treasurer.

Dean Bode gave an informal talk on conditions of the parish. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Goodfellow. All young women interested are extended a special invitation to attend any of the meetings.

The Brown children became aware of what was happening before she was seriously gassed, and ran to the neighbors who called Dr. M. H. A. Peterson and broke in the door. Mrs. Brown is now recovering.

Light Plant Proposal Is Postponed

Utilities Company Head Asks For Time To Pass On Firm's Guarantees

A telegram from the President of the San Francisco company that has proposed the establishment here of a municipally-owned light and power plant caused a postponement of the meeting scheduled for the school auditorium on Monday night, where representatives of the company were to have presented a report of the survey conducted by their engineers.

The telegram did not arrive until noon Monday. Later the explanation was made that the president of the Utilities Company Inc., had been detained on a trip East and had just returned by airplane. He had not, therefore had an opportunity to go over the guarantees it was proposed to make on behalf of his company, it was explained.

Police officers were stationed at the school building before the hour fixed for the meeting to give notice of the postponement. More than 150 citizens appeared. No date has been fixed for another meeting.

The city councils of Upland and Ontario have authorized a survey to determine the feasibility of a light and power plant to be operated jointly by the twin foothill municipalities. The survey is being conducted by an engineering firm of Kansas City and unlike the one here, is being paid for by the cities.

Glendale's City Council has employed an official of the Key system of ferries and trolleys in San Francisco to conduct a survey there into the desirability of installing a new municipal transportation system.

Two Young Men Of 92 And 81 Celebrate Their Birthdays

A quiet family dinner party is being planned to celebrate the 92nd birthday of M. A. Hawkes of 196 West Montecito avenue, tomorrow. Sierra Madre's Grand Old Man, who is seen taking long walks daily over Sierra Madre hillis, attributes his long life to moderate living. "Moderation in everything— working, playing, eating and sleeping" is his motto.

Mr. Hawkes came here over 14 years ago from Montana, where he was active in business, and has found Sierra Madre ideal for health and happiness.

Another beloved Sierra Madrean, Daniel Shaffer, father of Mrs. Albert Wheeling of 101 East Central avenue, will celebrate his 81st birthday on Monday. Mr. Shaffer is a deacon in the Congregational Church and has been a resident of Sierra Madre for a number of years. A quiet family celebration will be held in Mr. Shaffer's honor.

'Barefoot' Burglar Is Loose Again

Outsmarts Police When Too Many Chiefs Identify Him In Jail At Arcadia

During the 48 hours that John Pegram languished in the Arcadia hoosegow he was visited and identified by police chiefs from nearly every city and town in the San Gabriel Valley who put in a claim for him for crimes committed in their cities where he had become known as the "barefoot" and "pants burglar." Burbank put in a claim for him on serious moral charges and from telegrams he was identified as Roy Howard, alias "Bennie Chenney," a fugitive from the Louisania penitentiary, from which he escaped by cutting down a guard.

As the caged marauder saw endless trouble and time piling up for himself he thought out a plan to outsmart his Arcadia captors. And it worked. He is free again and the police of the whole valley are sitting on needles and pins, while the populace is resting none too easily.

After he had been carefully inspected and interviewed by all sorts of officers and darkness had fallen on Sunday evening, the burglar confided to Chief Richards that he was not only willing to make a clean breast of his depredations, but to go to his former home in Pasadena and actually dig up a lot of his loot which he said he had buried there.

Richards fell for it. With another officer the chief loaded Pegram and a shovel into his car and sailed off for Pasadena where Pegram led his guards into the back yard of the house he formerly occupied, pointing out the spot where he said some booty had been hidden, and asked that the handcuffs be removed from his wrists so that he could dig it out.

But when the bracelets had been removed, "barefoot" reached for the top of a high fence instead of the shovel. Vaulting over it like an Olympic athlete he disappeared into the darkness.

Half an hour later a householder in the same block notified the Pasadena police that some one had broken into her kitchen and cleaned out her refrigerator. The food itemized as missing would be enough to keep a healthy burglar well nourished for a week. A handkerchief identified as Pegram's was found beside the ice box.

But though half of the Pasadena police force joined Richards in the chase immediately after "barefoot" escaped, nothing else has been seen or heard of the light footed house breaker.

"He outsmarted me all right," says Chief Richards.

Homecoming Session Of Woman's Club Ushers In Season Of Unusual Activity And Interesting Programs

By Estella Fink Nichols

Announcements made at the opening meeting of the year at the Woman's Club on Wednesday leave no doubt that this will be one of the most active and interesting periods in the club's history.

The opening program itself was homey, and splendid. It featured the "home coming" idea in which old friendship were renewed, and radiated friendliness and good will in an outstanding way.

A salute to the flag was given when Mrs. Edna R. Green, the club's new president, arose to preside at her first meeting. She extended a homecoming welcome "to old friends and new" and presented Mrs. C. H. Barker, a charter member of the club, as one of the honor guests.

Announcement was made by Mrs. W. J. Lawless, chairman of Department of International Relations, that the round table discussion, which was to have been held next Thursday at the club house, has been postponed due to the Carnival to be given by the club. A "Book Tea" will be given by Mrs. Lawless in the gardens of her home next Friday, October 21, at 2 p.m. Lillian C. Ford, editor of the book page of the Los Angeles Times, will be guest speaker for the afternoon and will talk on "The Economic Crisis— The Way Out." Autographed books written by Mrs. Ford and Sierra Madre authors will be on sale.

On October 26 speakers for and against Amendments No. 3 and No. 9 on the November ballot will constitute the program.

Mrs. Nestor A. Young announced that the Ways and Means committee will continue the plan of the delicatessen for the second meeting of each month. Each member of the club will be asked sometime during the year to contribute a cooked food article.

Mhe. J. M. Campbell announced plans for the carnival to be held next Thursday, October 20.

Mrs. John H. Robertson, one of the past presidents, asked the cooperation of the club with the Woman's Club Juniors for the coming year. She announced the fashion show to be given the last Tuesday of this month by the Guild of St. Catherine at the home of Miss Thomasella H. Graham.

Mrs. Lawless, Mrs. E. E. Bacon and Mrs. Fletcher H. White, past presidents, were introduced and wished the club success and extended greetings. Mrs. White asked that the members give Miss Green their cooperation throughout the year.

Mrs. Nestor Young, membership chairman, introduced two new members of the club, Mrs. M. R. Englander, who has been appointed chairman of the department of music, and Mrs. H. B. Ayers.

Mrs. Agnes L. McEuen of Riverside, vice-president at-large of the State Federation of California Woman's Clubs, one of the honor guests of the day, warned those present of the evil of reducing the taxes by cutting the money allotted to welfare organizations.

Miss Green read an invitation extended by Mrs. G. E. Rollins, state chairman, to attend the Los Angeles District meeting of Home and Gardens on Tuesday, October 18, at the Glendora Woman's club. A picnic luncheon will be held and coffee will be served by the club.

It was announced that Mrs. Lawless had consented to be the Garden Section chairman of the club for the coming year.

Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey of Los Angeles, president of the Los Angeles District Federation of Woman's Clubs, was introduced.

John B. Ratto, introduced by Mrs. White, program chairman, presented interesting impersonations of many famous men and characters, including Lloyd George, ex-prime minister of England; Georges Clemenceau, ex-premier

RESULT OF MAINE'S ELECTION DRAWS A PROTEST FROM HERE

A letter from a Sierra Madrean expressing surprise and disappointment at the result of the recent Maine election and announcing that he would forego his annual pilgrimage to his old home in consequence, was published in The Augusta, Me., Journal, of October 2, which has just reached The NEWS. S. R. G. Twycross is the author. The letter follows:
The Kennebec Journal,
Augusta, Maine.

Dear Sirs: The result of the recent election in my old native State, Maine, nearly broke my heart and I asked myself, where are the men tried and true (my father included)? It seems to me they would almost turn in their graves.

Is it liquor this young generation wish, with the high powered automobile? I have heard several prominent men say they wouldn't dare use their autos. Do they want a change in the administration and take two years to recover, as we older ones have been through? Do they want to exchange President Hoover, the greatest man in the U.S. today, for a young man without any experience? I have for many years spent my fall vacation at my old home in Maine, visiting my only sister, but I don't want to make the trip this fall feeling as I do.
Very truly,
S. R. G. TWYCROSS.

Bob Shuler Says---

IN A speech at El Monte in interest of his candidacy for the Senatorship, Rev. Bob Shuler said:

"The newspaper such as you have in your small towns and rural sections is an essential factor to the very life of your civilization.

"Support your newspaper. Stand by its advertisers. Subscribe for it and be loyal to it. That's good advice. Remember that the newspaper has been the very backbone of our democratic form of government and a free press will to the end be a mighty guardian of our liberties.

"I say this . . . because it is the truth and should be said over and over again.

"Do not forget that this Nation would never have stood had it not been for the independent newspaper. The radio can no more take the place of the newspaper of that variety than the truck can take the place of the Pullman train."

LILY PONS TO OPEN BRILLIANT SEASON AT PHILHARMONIC

"There is no depression in music," says manager L. E. Behymer, who again brings a splendid array of singers, dancers, and instrumentalists to the Philharmonic Auditorium this coming season.

The Behymer Philharmonic Artist Course which opens this evening, October 14, with Lily Pons, distinguished soprano, in concert recital, not only offers the best in music but at such moderate prices to meet present conditions and any purse. Apart from the regular concert course there will be two extra attractions: Amri Galli-Campi, eminent coloratura soprano, and Harry Lauder.

A trio of superb sopranos, Lily Pons, Lotte Lehmann, and Elizabeth Schumann are among the featured singers. Giovanni Martinelli, popular Italian tenor, will make his reappearance: two choirs, the Hall Johnson Negro Choir, and the Don Cossack Chorus, are listed for the coming season. The art of the dance will be represented by Glueck-Sandor and Felicia Sorel with their American Ballet.

Among the instrumentalists are Josef Hofmann and Vladimir Horowitz, pianists; and Josef Szigeti and Yehudi, violinists.

of France; Marshall Fosh, General Pershing, Woodrow Wilson and Uncle Sam.

Mr. Ratto followed his character studies with a short talk on the duties of every family to the community in which it lives.

Miss Harriette Grant, club hostess, and her committee, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Myrtle G. Hill, Mrs. R. W. Solomon and Mrs. L. Wammock, were introduced.

In keeping with the scheme of the day in which each member wore something symbolic of her native state, maps of states and capitols, made by the children of Mrs. Eva Moore's class of the grammar school in the club colors, were distributed. The lady holding the capitol of the state had the one with the state map as her luncheon partner.

The luncheon tables were attractively decorated with floral center pieces of dahlias and other flowers grown in the club gardens. A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Frank Butler, Mrs. Harry Holland, Mrs. C. H. Tuggle and Mrs. Phillip Senour.

Mrs. McKelvey, district president, gave a short talk. "The ballot is the badge of citizenship. We must go to the polls on November 8," she said.

Dean A. G. H. Bode, luncheon speaker, spoke of "Interesting Personalities" he had known in his grammar school days in Australia, where he was born; in England, and in America.

An enormous gavel, made by R. S. Corlett, was presented Miss Green at luncheon.

The meeting was adjourned for the day following the introduction of the luncheon guests. Mrs. Eileen Cardiff was the guest of Mrs. Lawless; Mrs. Rice of Baldwin Park, was presented by Mrs. Fred Griebenow, and Mrs. Roy Wynne, a newcomer to Sierra Madre, was introduced by Mrs. J. M. Campbell.

Automobile Deaths

32,500 persons were killed in America by automobiles last year. Slightly less than the number killed during the war. Someone has to pay the damages in most of these cases. Would you be prepared if you were accidently responsible for a fatality?

An EXCHANGE policy will shoulder the responsibility. The cost is lower, too.

Biggest Trout Is Victim Of Judge's Ritzy Gold Hooks

Judge Tom Neale, taking a Monday morning holiday at the Big Santa Anita dam, made the sardine and minnow fishermen envious by hauling in the season's biggest catch hereabouts— a 19 inch trout. So, getting some returns from the ritzy gold hooks and new line we saw him with last week. This fish, by the way, was actually caught. He brought it home in person, not by the sign language.

THREE GREAT FILMS AT LYRIC THEATRE

Death plays a hand in the opening scenes of "70,000 Witnesses," now playing at the Lyric Theatre in Monrovia. In this timely football picture Johnny

Johny Mack Brown and Dorothy Jordan

Mack Brown, who has actually done quite a bit of football playing in real life, is the victim of a daring crime perpetrated on the gridiron before thousands of eyes.

This week-end another of the regular five act vaudeville shows is featured in conncetion with the picture. Lyric audiences have been agreeably surprised during the past weeks at the fine professional tecnique with which the Lyric's stage shows have been staged.

"Tiger Shark" and "OK, America" offer a varied double feature bill Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Lew Ayers is the inquisitive columnist in "OK America." To the hundreds of thousands of radio fans who have listened in to Winchell, the title alone gives a hint of the film's entertainment value.

New York's "Share-a-Meal Works Well

The emergency unemployment relief committee in New York recently promulgated the "share-a-meal" drive, designed to provide meals for the city's unemployed, the result being that a central depot had to be established to receive the food contributed, reassemble it in unit packages, and carry it to the needy families. More than 2,500 stores in New York enlisted in the campaign, and now 13,500 meals a day are furnished. Here is a view in the central depot with workmen busy sorting the individual packages, 25 pounds to each needy family.

Local Sport Paragraphs

By John Copeland

THERE'S one fella from here who's going to be heard from in a very large way in a couple of years, that is if he gets into a U or college where he's backed up by an A-1 line, etc. This same gentleman is Jack Young, who, for the comparitively few minutes he was in the game, had the California frosh in a dizzy mood indeed up in Berkeley stadium on Saturday.

The Jaysee outfit really didn't have a chance with the heftier, better drilled young Bears, but they had plenty fight—they had to have in order to shove over the two touchdowns they did. If Young had been equipped with tempered steel casings, he might have stood up under the works the northern boys gave him every scrimmage. As it was all he could give was about twice as much as anybody else on the field, then get himself carried to the sidelines.

If Cal. had had a man like Young in its backfield, the final tally would have been three times what it was on their side. Les Miller got sore when Young was laid out, incidentally. And when Mr. Miller is sore he tackles with the gentleness of a grizzly.

After the preliminary game, Scalzo and Miller and Young, and local spectators including Mrs. Tom Miller, Bob Chavis, Jim Eddy and Chuck Park, sat back more or less dispassionately and watched the fireworks. More or les, we say, taking into consideration that Bob is an old Berkeley man himself.

St. Mary is as colorful as a three ring circus. What with the band wearing blue trousers, red coats, and nickle plated helmets, and the team looking like an American flag gone haywire—the tackles, center, guards, halfs and fullback togged in red silk pants, blue jersies and a white bib, the end in bright blue pants, and the quarter in white pants.

In the first quarter it looked like the golden Bears were going to get shellaced a dirty yellow color. The Saints were showing POWER. Brovelli was driving like mad. His line was flawless. They looked so good that we will back up their chances of licking everybody else they meet this year.

Then the Bears got to looking around at ye old Berkeley hilltops crowded with loyal rooters, and at the immediate stadium, crowded with even more loyal rooters (they had to pay a couple more plunkers than the hillside chislers), and they got all het up and intercepted a pass and ran 50 yards, and drove powerfully for still another, and when the final gun sounded they were going full steam. Which makes it look dark as heck for USC.

The Tennis Association here was going to have a fee-free round robin, but decided very rightly, we believe, that it will be cheaper for everyone in the long run if reasonable charges are made, and good balls are furnished players.

Figure it out for yourself. If you are a tennis bug you know that 15 matches played with new balls in good competition will be very beneficial to your game. Balls alone would cost as much outside a round robin. The workings of the robin are complicated: Only two sets to a match means that each player will be out to win by as big a score as possible, in that the score in games as well as the score in sets will be recorded. Your final standing will be decided by just how decisively you have either won or lost your matches.

This system will liven things up considerably. For when players like Fuller, Smith or Tuttle meet dubs like us it will be up to them to win 12 straight games, instead of loafing and dropping a game on doubles or some such fluke. And while dubs may not win any matches we can have the satisfaction of getting credit for an occassional game, plus much experience of the tournament variety.

When all is said and done, the final day should find the first ranking men somewhat as follows, tho not necessarily in such order: Louis Fuller, Homer Tuttle, Emile Smith, Jim Eddy, Hiro, Bill Pyle. Whether he enters in the men's or boys division Wes Perry ought to hold his own nicely. Pete Meyers won't be anybody's doormat if he enters, either.

Hosses are really going to have their day again by the looks of things. The Santa Anita track is half an oval already. They say that the stables will go up in another month or so, after the track is sufficiently packed, and the sand is forced down by water flow. In the meantime election day isn't so far away. When the people have voted on the race track proposition we'll be entirely sure about the Santa Anita track project.

A report to the county supervisors by the Comptroller of the University of Southern California shows that during 1931, '30, '29 and '28 a total of 1,500,000 people paid to see the Trojans challenge and defend National and Pacific Coast football honors in Olympic stadium. This figure more than equals the population of Los Angeles . . "During the last eight years the gross amount of rentals and expenses charged for the use of Olympic stadium totals $989,034.38, and of this amount the University of Southern California has paid $667,582.70, more than 68 per cent," according to the Comptroller's report. "The average season paid attendance during the last four years to Trojan football games in Olympic stadium has averaged more than 355,000 people.

DEMOCRATS ARRANGE FOR DISTRICT DINNER

GOP Men & Women Open Big Campaign Drive In Pasadena

Both men and women of the Pasadena Republican Club launched an active 30-day campaign this week during which many luncheons and educational meetings will be held in the interests of the party's candidates and policies to be voted on in the November general election.

Included in the series of night rallies and noon-day assemblies is a women's luncheon this noon. Invitations have been sent to Sierra Madre voters as well as to other nearby communities to attend as many of the campaign meetings as possible.

ELDERS MUST ACCOMPANY KIDS TO JOBLESS SOCIALS

The Monday social for unemployed and their friends was as popular as ever. After the dances a number of loaves of bread from the Safeway Stores were distributed. In future children will be admitted only when accompanied by their elders. Voluntary offerings of refreshments were made for next Monday.

A. L. A. Activities

By Dorothy Shetler

A L A MEMBERS, are you Active-Loyal-and Alert in the sale of Armistic Day football tickets? The annual Armistice Game was originated in 1931, to provide additional revenue, other than that supplied by the Community Chest, for the operation of the American Legion Service Department and to raise revenue which could be used for relief work in the County—outside of the City of Los Angeles. Community Chest money raised in the city can be used only in the city. Therefore it was imperative that some method of raising money be found in order that our extensive program of relief outside Los Angeles could be adequately carried out. A successful annual football game will provide that method, if we can have 100 per cent support of the Legion and its Auxiliary. Last year the Department handled over 6,000 cases and gave relief to more than 2,300 families, the amount expended exceeding $28,000.

An interesting meeting of the A.L.A. mothers and their daughters took place Saturday afternoon in the Legion Headquarters. A Junior Auxiliary is to be formed in the near future. The girls are very enthusiastic and the small membership fee will be a pleasant surprise to parents this year.

And now for another "Portrait in Print"— Our present secretary, Miss Minnie Ella Stinman. Miss Stinman is another native of the Tall Corn State. She was born in Adair County, Iowa. Then one day Miss Stinman felt the urge to advance the cause of the three R's, so she got a school in Custer County, Neb., and started teaching the young sprouts how to sprout. That "school-marming" is what accounts for Secretary Stinman's alert mind. If there is a catch question, a memory contest, or a word-forming game—what do you always hear? "What's the use of trying, Minnie has the answer first, always!" Three years ago, California was her aim when she obeyed the command, "Go West." And she says she likes this vicinity better than anywhere else. Miss Stinman has belonged to the A.L.A. of Sierra Madre for three years, filling an office each term. She was Historian, then Chaplain, and this year Secretary. Minnie Stinman teaches a class in the Congregational Church and is a member of the Friendship Club. All in all she leads a very active, useful life and if she likes to "cat-nap" now and then— well, what of it.

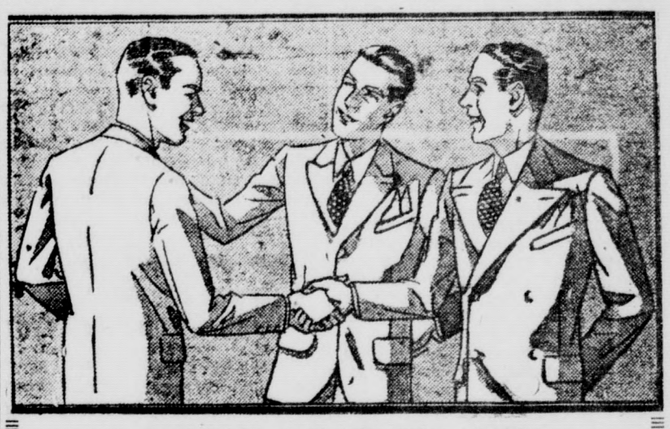

For the edification of those not already edified. Did you know that the A.L.A. had expended a sum of $511.27 in welfare and relief work last year, up to September 12th. Child Welfare alone had an expenditure of $273. The Hospitalization and Rehabilitation Chairman reported that $156.60 had been spent along those lines. The remainder of the total amount was used in Community Service and Unemployed relief.

If you have any new ideas on sewing or gift making, report next Wednesday, October 19th at the City Hall from 1 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Lillyan Wheeler urges that members begin, to start, to commence to finish up their handiwork for the November Bazaar.

Ellen Evans requests that you begin your search for books and magazines for "Book Night." This collection of plain and fancy literature is for the Vets' Hospital. The date of collection will be in THE NEWS next week.

Lucille Pickett also makes a request to each member, to arm themselves with smiles and application blanks and get busy. There are still a few eligible ladies remaining for membership. And when our aims and purposes are explained, the nature of our obligation for mutual helpfullness, the quality of loyalty and sociability among the members made clear, all earnest women will be ready to enroll in the A.L.A. And last but not least, the new and very pleasant method of paying this year's dues is an added attraction.

Selah.

OUTWITTING THE GARDEN SNAIL

By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

HAVE YOU noticed that the snails and slugs are particularly active just now? This is probably due to the damp weather and because the young snails are growing up and getting a big appetite. If you go out into your garden these foggy mornings you will find the snails still on the plants or walking on the ground as they are on their way home after their night's spree. Usually you will have to go into the garden early to catch the snails before they retire.

For those who do not like early morning snail hunting, there are other means of control. We have had very good results from using the commercial bran poison called "Snarol" which can be purchased in convenient packages.

If you wish to make your own poisoned bran, you can use the following formula:

Bran, 12 pounds; water, 2 gallons; Lemons, 3; Sodium Arsenate Solution (47 per cent) ¼ pint; Black Molasses, 1 quart.

Chop lemons finely. Mix lemons, sodium arsenate solution and molasses with part of the water and then mix this with the bran. Add water until the mixture is moist enough to hang together and broadcast evenly to avoid an accumulation of lumps.

Finely ground white arsenic, ½ pound, may be used instead of the Sodium Arsenate Solution, if desired.

This poison bait should be scattered lightly, without lumps, in every likely spot in the garden where snails might be hiding out. Repeat about every week or two or until you see no more damage done by the pests.

Wise To Increase Citrus Production Says Farm Advisor

This is not altogether an opportune time to advise citrus growers to individually increase their production per tree, although that is undoubtedly a wise move for those who expect to stay in the citrus industry, according to the Farm Bureau. Extension meetings on cultural methods always draw good crowds of interested listeners, but when the subject of marketing is announced, citrus growers with one accord begin to make excuses for their absence, according to W. H. Williams, Assistant Farm Advisor.

Dr. H. Wellman, in his recent presentation to growers in Los Angeles County of his accumulated data regarding the marketing of summer oranges, showed that it was possible during such years as 1931, where 100 per cent of the growers would cooperate on withholding about 20 per cent of the crop from the market, to increase the profits per acre about $100. Where only 75 per cent of the growers participated in such a move the increase would be cut to approximately $60 per acre. He also showed that where no more than 55 per cent of the growers participated in a surplus control, they could save scarcely anything. Any improvement in the market resulting from withholding shipments by a small group would be immediately nullified by the shipments of those who were not cooperating rushing to take advantage of the slight improved condition. The grower who then withholds his fruit is really the loser if he is unable to sell 100 per cent of his fruit, while that grower who does not participate in any control markets all of his fruit.

Double Drive Will Be Connected Up To Valley Boulevard

A low bid of $14,931.82 resulted in the contract for the extension and improvement of Santa Anita avenue being let to the Hall-Johnson company. Work is to commence immediately, supported by state gasoline tax funds. The extension will connect the present Double Drive with the lower Azusa road, leading into Valley boulevard by way of Tyler avenue, in El Monte.

It is expected that the artery, connecting Antelope Valley with the valley and ocean, will be completed within a year. The northerly section of the road, has been cut through the foothills to a point some hundreds of feet east and north of Clark's camp, or the Half-Way House on Sturtevant Trail. Surveying work and shelving is being carried on almost as far back as First Water.

LAWLESSNESS OF CANDIDATES BRINGS PROTEST FROM WOMEN

Calling to mind the hard work that has been done to beautify Los Angeles County for the Olympic visitors, the Woman's Civic League of Pasadena in a complaint to the Board of Supervisors has voiced strenuous objections to the practice of politicians spreading advertizing placards over the countryside. The communication, signed by Mrs. Edwin Hahn of the League, stated that there has been an utter disregard of existing laws and personal rights in the distribution of ads on trees and other natural objects along the public highways.

Big Land Donation Brings Eaton Park Nearer To Reality

Eaton Cnyon Park, the Pasadena project which will transform the wash land to the west of Sierra Madre Villa into a natural beauty spot, came another step nearer reality this week as an additional 20 acres of land were donated. By next spring it is expected that the entire amount of land necessary will have been deeded over.

Construction of two thirds of a mile of scenic park drive will result from the recent donations. First improvement work will include the dumping of earth from Pasadena excavations into the wash, and different varieties of soil will be used to accomodate the various varieties of plants which are already planned on a landscape map. Block-Aid workers are employed in transporting dirt at present.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

AFTER the annnouncement of a few weeks ago that the firemen would again repair broken toys, a number of toys have been left at the engine house. To date, we are without a "Toy Shop," but negotiations are in progress.

Tonight is another of those times when the boys will renew acquaintances, due to the long interval between meetings. Once every so often, we encounter a month with five Fridays, and this accounts for the meetings being three weeks apart. (We had to explain this for Andy.)

This will be the Chief's turn to feed, which, if nothing else was an attraction, alone would insure a full house. We noticed that in the Chief's back yard, he has added a building and we think that maybe he has fattened up a few chickens for tonight's feed.

The much talked-of pictures that are at last on exhibition in the window of the Sierra Madre Hardware Co., and have caused much talk and sometimes hilarity. The way the fire ladies enjoyed them, when they first saw them, was not a crying party. The ladies laughed so much at the sight of their own dear firemen, that at midnight, during their last meeting, the laughing was still at it's height. The night police were very much embarrassed, because their wives laughed heartily.

The pictures, however, reflect much credit on the photographers as only an expert could take such natural pictures.

The "Toy Shop" reminds us that the Big Christmas Party of the year is nearing and already the Firemen are preparing for this. Save up all the excess energy for this big good time, and we might add save up the price of a ticket. Everybody in town goes to this, so meet them there.

Joe Swanson, our Captain of the First Aid Crew, and Roy Walsworth were the representatives of the fire department at the recent Red Cross Meeting and we noticed they took a front seat.

At another meeting of the past week our celebrated Assistant Chief was there decked out in his complete outfit. This was due to his having been to the photographers for the ninth time, in order to get a picture that satisfied the entire department. Now he says that if this is not satisfactory, they can all go and get another Assistant Chief.

Bob Babbitt appears at the Fire Station occasionally, but only on Saturday evenings.

Don Hosford is back and looks familiar around the town again. We will all enjoy seening him at the meeting tonight.

Hot Lead

By Andrew Killoran

PLANS are in the air to hold the November District meeting here. Of this more anon. We have a bountiful supply of 1933 membership cards on hand. See our energetic adjutant and get yours toot sweet—and the tooter the sweeter.

In our absence from the last meeting, our secret operator No. 13 reports that the comrades had a heck of a time trying to keep each other straightened out on parliamentary procedure. Better watch your step hereafter, mates, because we hear that the skipper is brushing up on Roberts' Rules of Order.

Sauntering up Central the other day, trying to conjure up some tripe to fill this space, we shuffled into Comrade Hapgood's filling station, home of the hy-toned hamburger and erstwhile unofficial Democratic headquarters.

"Say, George," we inquired, "why are you so hot for Roosevelt"

"For 10 reasons;" he replied. "First, because he's a Democrat, and the other nine don't count."

"But," we insisted, "would you swap horses in midstream?"

"No," was his comeback, "I'd just change the riders."

"And say," was his parting shot as we were making our getaway, "didn't they tell us back in 1917 that we were fighting to make the world safe for the Democratic Party?"

We hadn't thought of that. Guess we'll wise up Lester Layton.

Later: Comrade Layton says we're all wet; that the idea was to make the world safe FROM the Democratic Party.

So figure it out for yourself.

Come to the meeting Monday night and hear all about the plans for the Armistic Day shindig and other matters of interest, including Chef Stinman's call to come and get it. Our enlarged seating capacity will now accommodate the whole gang.

Three Plays By Local Man Being Shown

Community Players Here Schedule Productions For Three Months

Henry Gordon Coulter's unconventional comedy now in rehearsal for production by the Players here on the 28th of this month has been renamed "The Captive Man," This play, formerly called "The Idealist," is one of three which Coulter now has under production. "Here's to Crime" will be staged at the Pasadena Workshop soon, and a play not as yet titled is being whipped into shape in Los Angeles for presentation in a number of coast cities.

The Players announce that their November production will be a revival of "The Rompers." This vaudeville revue is to be sponsored by the Masonic Lodge. "Wanted— A Baby," the comedy of a bachelor forced to produce a family on an hour's notice, will be on the December bill of fare.

Tonight the Players hold their first membership meeting of the year in the Playshop, upstairs in the Woman's clubhouse. This meeting will be open to all members and prospective members and their guests.

Ralph Freud, prominent actor and assistant director at the Pasadena Community Playhouse, will give a talk on the theatre. Freud was director of dramatics at UCLA last year.

A one-act play, "Passing Shadows," with a cast including John Corlett, Treva Scott, Mary Young, Netta Finlayson and Craig McaLughlin, will be staged also.

CUT RATES TO BRING WINTER TOURISTS INTO CALIFORNIA

The Santa Fe is going to make a determined effort to increase coach and chair car travel in its three western states by putting into effect, November 1, a new and extremely low schedule of rates for that class of business which company officials believe will make the railway the most attractive means of transportation available.

The new rates will mean a saving of about one-third to one-way travelers, and considerably more on round trip tickets. They will apply locally between all main points on the Santa Fe in Arizona and New Mexico, from Albuquerque west to the Colorado River, and also between that territory and all points in California. The rates will have a special value in California as the cost of travel between that State an dits two eastern neighbors will be materially reduced.

RANGER SAYS LACK OF TRAILS MADE OJAI FIRE DESTRUCTIVE

J. Milton Steinberger and Frank Lovell represented Sierra Madre's fire department at the Angeles Forest Protective Association meeting at Camp Baldy Wednesday night.

About 125 delegates from the foothill area attended the meeting and heard Ranger E. L. Baxter, of Ojai, tell of how lack of roads and trails coupled with high winds and low humidity were chief causes of such fires as the recent Santa Barbara conflagration in which 28,000 acres were burned over.

WEST VIRGINIA TO PICNIC

There will be a picnic reunion of the West Virginians combined with McGuffy Society of Southern California, in Sycamore Grove Park, all day Saturday, October 22nd, 1932. All West Virginians and all who ever studied any of the McGuffy Readers from any state are invited. President Henry P. Maxwell will be in charge of the program.

Longtime Edison Employe Honored By Fellow Workers

Bringing to a close a long period of employment, A. S. Cochran district superintendent of the Southern California Edison Company at Monrovia, retired from active service October 1st.

This occasion was recognized by a farewell dinner given in his honor. The assembly was made up of all the district employes with their families, also James Anderson, division superintendent of Pasadena, who is an old friend and fellow-worker of Mr. Cochran's.

As Mr. and Mrs. Cochran contemplate spending considerable time in traveling for the next few months, his fellow employes presented him with a very handsome traveling case as a token of their esteem.

Mr. Cochran was born near Pittsburgh, Pa., and came to California in 1896, taking up his residence in Pasadena. During his residence in Monrovia, Mr. Cochran has been very active in social, civic and religious activities.

The work formerly handled in Monrovia by Mr. Cochran is now in charge of E. L. Houston as District Superintendent.

NIGHT CLASS IN ART IS ORGANIZED AT MONROVIA

A new evening school class in "Drawing and Portrait Painting" was organized last night at the Monrovia-Arcadia-Duarte High School, in Monrovia. Miss A. Catherine Skeele is the instructor. The course will include drawing and painting, still life and portrait, and the class will meet in the Arts Building, room 27, of the high school, corner Orange and Madison avenues. Tuition is free. Residents of Sierra Madre are welcome.

United Support Is Pledged Red Cross

The clothing store reports that 1205 pieces of clothing have been distributed. Women have been paid wages totaling $97.16 for their work in reconditioning old clothing. Fifty pieces of bedding were sent to homes.

An interesting feature of Humphrie's report showed that seven programs under Red Cross auspices were given in the park during the summer. Through the co-operation of the City in the handling of seating and lighting arrangements the total cost was but $32.80, most of this being paid out for labor.

Delegates present were asked for their pledge of support and cooperation for the coming year. The delegates of the following pledged their support: Volunteer Fire Department, Daughters of Veterans, Cooperative Relief, Masonic Lodge, Dickens Fellowship, Congregational Church, Woman's Guild of the Episcopal Church, Bethany Church, Canyon Association, P.T.A., Beth Israel Auxiliary, Woman's Club, Modern Priscillas, Friendship Club of the Congregational Church, St. Rita's Church. The following organizations will report later: American Legion, Daughters of the British Empire, American Legion Auxiliary and the Firemen's Auxiliary.

Mr. Humphries spoke in glowing terms of praise for the excellent work done by Mrs. Nancy Beuhring in her handling of the office routine and his remarks were received with applause. Much credit was also given to Miss Clara Sykes, who has volunteered her services as bookkeeper during the past year.

Following is the tabulated financial report submitted by Mr. Humphries, covering the period from October 12, 1931 to October 1, 1932:

HISTORY OF THE CITY TO BE PREPARED

fabulous California of which he had read. So he said: "Here, indeed, is California."

If it hadn't been very foggy in the vicinity of San Francisco Bay one day long ago when Sir Francis Drake sailed past, England might have settled the Bay region, Dr. Cowan said. Drake sailed past with no realization of the fine harbor so near.

Another strange California happening cited by Dr. Cowan was the signing of the treaty which transferred California from Mexico to the United States six months from the date on which gold was discovered here. The treaty called for a net payment of $15,000,000, and within the next half year $29,000,000 in gold was taken from the ground.

Commenting on legislation Dr. Cowan said: "The first State legislature, in 1849, was composed of young men, most of them under 35—one one over 50. To carry through their necessary task of making laws they had to go to the capitol, San Jose. Now San Jose was a hell roaring town, and there were many distractions . . . roulette and poker, and wine and the fandango . . . Yet those men drew up laws which were for the benefit of the people, showing no partiality to creed or group and four-fifths of these laws are still on the statute books."

Another incident in California history that would hard to duplicate anywhere else was that concerning a certain gentleman who killed a less popular man than he himself was, and was duly sentenced to be hung. Friends secured an old, long pigeon-holed document which petitioned for the designation of Arroyo Seco as the State Capitol. They cut the signatures off this petition—very important names—and attached them to another document which requested the condemned man's freedom. The Governor obliged.

Reading a brief biographical sketch of the late Prof. John J. Hart, one of the city's pioneers, Mrs. Hawxhurst made mention of the fact that present Park House once housed the professor's famed winery. It was there that he made a wine that was widely acclaimed for its smoothness.

Dr. Cowan was made an honorary members of the Sierra Madre Historical Society, and Harold Carew was appointed President Emeritus in honor of his founding of the organization. Acknowledgement was made of Mrs. Elmer Green's resignation as vice-president, and Miss Lydia Webster was chosen in her stead. The recently elected officers, Mrs. H. I. Hawxhurst, president, and Mrs. C. W. Bowen, assumed their duties. The next meeting date was set for some time in April.
